

As an Indiana resident, we have been protected by Indiana's telephone solicitation law for many months now. It has been an outstanding success. No longer is my precious time wasted with unwanted calls. I am particularly concerned about how broadly the "existing customer" proposal is interpreted.

Please allow states with more stringent solicitation protections to keep them.

Thank you.

Anna Francis